

Evening ILLUSTRATED Ledger

MONDAY
October 4, 1915

READING THE DAY'S GRIST OF NEWS THROUGH THE EVER-PRESENT EYE OF THE CAMERA

MARKET STREET PACKED FROM CURB TO CURB WITH AUTUMN SHOPPERS
This photograph was taken at 11 o'clock in the morning. It indicates how quickly retail trade has revived with the arrival of cooler weather.

LONGEST STEEL ARCH CONTAINED IN ANY RAILROAD BRIDGE IN THE WORLD Photo by Bain.
This is the bridge over Hell Gate, N. Y., which forms the connecting link between the trunk lines of New England and the South. It has a span of 1017 feet. When the two ends met, it was found there was a variation of only one-quarter inch throughout the structure.

...GERAN SUFFRAGIST, THOUGH A MAN
George Small is lending his aid and oratory to the cause in New Jersey, where Philadelphia workers are lending a hand to arouse the voters to the importance of the suffrage amendment.

NOW MAKING PLANES FOR GREAT BRITAIN
Thomas Sopwith, a brother of Mrs. E. Burd Grubb, of New Jersey, who once made a flight around City Hall here, has built a plant in England which is turning out 1000 machines for the Government.

BUSINESS DISTRICT OF ARMORE (OKLA.)...WIPED OUT BY EXPLOSION
Forty-seven persons were killed, $500,000 in damages were caused and the centre of the town was wrecked when 200 barrels of gasoline in a freight car ignited, setting off dynamite stored in a warehouse. Help from neighboring towns was sent to quell the terrible fire that followed.